Not illustrated. 1913 Excerpt: ...work to do and the management seemed inspired in its selection. There was Dr. Canfield for instance. He had a peculiar knack for promotion, and his regime came at a time when the University needed a promoter. Each seems to have had his special work to do and the time to do it, and having served his purpose stepped aside. Dr. Thompson has come as our great Pontifex Maximus--the builder of the superstructure upon the sure foundations that his predecessors have constructed. A splendid work he is doing. The physical plant and the instructional force that he has to deal with, his earlier predecessors could hardly have dreamed of. I hear it said occasionally that the instructional force is not as efficient as it might be. I should not be surprised if that were true. Faculties are necessarily made up as are other industrial organizations--in spite of the best efforts of managements to prevent it--of workers and place-holders but none who heard President Thompsons plain talk to the alumni at the celebration of our fortieth anniversary in June can doubt that he knows this as well as anybody and is moving with promptness and good judgment to bring the institution to the highest point of efficiency. It may be that some day Dr. Thompson will have completely served his purpose in the University, but that day is not in sight now. It was evident throughout the anniversary exercises that he is uniformly popular with all the many classes with which he has to deal--and deservedly so. ANOTHER RELIGIOUS campaign, similar to the one two years ago, will be started by the University Y. M. C. A., with meetings during the week of February 15 to 19, led by Dr. W. O. Thompson. With fifty students actively at work preparing for the meetings, including the 22 who went to the student...
