MONTHLY VOLUME 64

This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1915 Excerpt: ...next year is county uniformity of text-books. The lack of this has been one of the most serious drawbacks to efficient work the past year. We have had 57 varieties in the county and almost that many in some individual schools. A list has been agreed upon by the Superintendents, recommended by the County Board, and already been adopted by a number of local boards. By September first we shall have a full county adoption. Supt. Fletcher Hawke, Warren Co. I am sending a few headlines indicating a part of what has been done through supervision in Warren County since August 1, 1914. 1. Virtual uniformity of textbooks. 2. A practically uniform course of study for the rural districts. 3. A co-ordination of effort in all the schools of the County District. 4. An increase in the salaries of teachers. 5. An elimination of incompetent, indifferent and negligent persons from the teaching corps. 6. Very valuable assistance rendered School Boards in their choice of teachers for the coming year. 1. An esprit du corps among the teachers which did not previously exist. 8. The centralization of one township and the consolidation of a village district with a township district, thereby providing for the organization of a first-grade Township High School. There is a growing sentiment toward consolidation in various parts of the county. 9. The transfer by the County Hoard of much territory from one district to another, thereby increasing the efficiency of the county system. 10. The training of a body of young people at the Normal School at Waynesville at a very low cost and with great benefit to them. 11. The conversion of public sentiment from an attitude of hostility to one of friendliness toward the new law. Supt. G. W. Baumgardner, Wayne Co. In answer to your ques...
